Selling Converges Especially or the Hill Stocks and Reading.

CALL MONEY GOES HIGHER

Further Calling of Loans Causes This, and Sentimental Effect Is Shown.

NEW YORK, December 10.—The support for the market, which has been persisted in for some time past, was evidently abandoned to-day, but whether voluntarily or foreibly was not clear. There was further calling of toans by the banks, following that of yesterday, and the call money of 20 per cent. rate yesterday was run up to 25 per cent. to-day. This had a bad effect on speculative sentiment, but the force of the depression was far more direct than through effect on sentiment. The selling converged especially on the Hill stocks and Reading, and as those stocks had been pleked out for the most conspicuous operations in supporting the advance, their sudden relapse was of marked sympathetic effect on the whole market. Some relative resistance was shown by the coppers. Financia sentiment is sensitive to the large continuance of the drain on New York the interior demand has made, shown in the persistent heavy transfers. This demand is keeping up the premium on currency, and was given part responsibility for the active calling of lonns by the New York banks to-day. The government's favorable estimate of the cotton crop had but moderate effect in steadying stocks, and the day's decline in prices proved to be considerable. Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $3,200,000, United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks to-day, 675,600 shares.

NEW YORK, December 10,—Money on call strong, 12@25 per cent. Ruling rate, 20; closing bid, 15; offered at 18. Time loans firm; sixty days and alnety days, 18; six months, 8. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 7@8 per cent. Sterling exchange very weak, with actual business in bankers' bills at 34.8920@34.8025 for demand, and at 34.8920@34.8025 for demand, and at 34.7970@34.7025 for sixty-day bills. Commercial bills, 34.7950. Bar silver, 1514. Mexican dollars, 44. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds weak. RICHMOND STOCK MARKET.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, December 19.—The cotton market had a sensational break after the publication of the government estimate of the crop this afternoon, and while the close was steady in tone the price movement showed a los of 44%49 points ales were crimated at 60,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 1646 points, and during the early session sold off to a set loss of 10912 points, owing to disappointing English cables, reports of an easter spot basis in the Southwest and scattering the early session sold of the action of the control of the country o about $2.50 a bale from the closing figure or last night. The close war a little up from the lowest on covering. The trade is stimating linters at about 300,000 bales, and local bears contend that the government has underestimated the commercial crop by the amount of the linters by at least 400,000 bales, so that in their opinion the figures with to an actual yield of about 12,400,000 bales against 13,500,000, the commercial trop of last year.

Rocchits at the ports to-day were 75,855 bales against $4,891 last week and 76,835 bales against $4,891 last week and 414,101 last year.

ON LOCAL MARKETS

Yesterday was perhaps the dullest day thus far this season on the tobacco floor. Monday's warm rain, followed by the spell of soft weather, has not the tobacco in such a watery state that there was small demand for yesterday's offerings. The season, however, is an excellent one, and those who hold their tobacco until another cold snap should fare as well as those who disposed of their crops last week and the week before.

Firsh means on the produce markets are also sufering a slump on account of the uniscasonable weather, and a great deal of it will have to go into cold storage unless there is a change within the next day or two. In concequence of this the prices have shown a marked decline.

Scatter Disniel and Mr. Bryan.

The venerable Senator Daniel, battle-scarred and gray in the service of the South and Democracy, guve Mr. Bryan some sound and plain advice which that gentleman was not disposed to take. Mr. Bryan takes no-body's advice. His conduct in the committee room at St. Louis was such that it might have brought him into a personal difficulty had he not been fortunate in selecting the men for the object of his remarks. Senator Daniel had a few things to say to him on that occasion.—Nashville American.
